About me

I'm Sara Fernandez Rubio, a full-time professional model originally from Spain, currently based in Australia. With experience across fashion, editorial, commercial, lifestyle and promotional modeling, I bring versatility, confidence and professionalism to every project.

I take direction with ease and adapt quickly across different concepts, whether working on commercial campaigns, editorial shoots, runway, events or branded content. I've had the opportunity to work with recognised companies, brands and creatives, always bringing a strong work ethic, reliability and a polished on-camera presence.
